

'Navy on Hand, Roosevelt to Open N. Y. Fair

President to Appear
On Television; Mayor
Welcomes Fleet

By the Associated Press.

New York, April 29.—Stirred by the arrival of 28 vessels of the United States Atlantic Squadron, the biggest city in the Nation prepared tonight for the opening of the biggest exposition the Nation—and the world—has ever seen, the New York World's Fair.

Although thousands of visitors poured into town from all parts of the country, the city's traditional throng was not noticeably augmented, but flags and bunting, tall hotels and a festive air presaged the debut which fair officials expect to draw a million people.

The Fleet dominated the day-before activities, attracting thousands to the waterfront as the vessels steamed majestically up the bay, beginning in the early morning, to anchor in the Hudson River.

Publishers Feted

A hundred newspaper publishers and advertising executives, here this week for the American Newspaper Publishers' Association's annual conclave, were guests of honor at the arrival, reviewing the flotilla from the deck of the battleship Tennessee.

Later, Mayor La Guardia and a delegation of fair officials boarded the battleship New York, the squadron flagship, to extend the city's official welcome.

Then hundreds of bluejackets swarmed ashore for a holiday, and thousands of New Yorkers sailed out to the vessels by every type of waterfront jitney.

Roosevelt to Appear

The next-ranking activity was extensive preparations for the visit of President Roosevelt, who will officially open the fair 3½ hours after the gates swing wide. The President will address a short speech to an expected 100,000 special guests in the fair's "Court of Peace" at 1:30 (E. S. T.) tomorrow.

The event will be picked up by television—the first time an American President has been televised—and the speech will be broadcast by all the major networks.

The President will come from his Hyde Park home by train to the Bronx, and thence by car over the new Whitestone Bridge to Queens for lunch at the fair grounds.

Some 3,000 police were detailed to the Presidential route and the midtown area.

Secret Service Takes Charge

Secret Service men took charge of one wing of the huge Federal building on the fair "Court of Peace," which the Presidential party will occupy before Mr. Roosevelt's speech.

The address will be preceded by the dedication at noon of the "Temple of Religion," and a parade from the Trylon-Perisphere "theme center" down the fair's main avenue, "Constitution Mall," to the Court of Peace.

Later, at the huge statue of George Washington nearby, will be re-enacted Washington's first inauguration, the 150th anniversary of which the fair opening commemorates.

Members of the foreign ruling houses will be in New York for the opening. Crown Prince Frederick and Crown Princess Ingrid of Denmark, who have already visited the fair, and Crown Prince Olaf and Crown Princess Martha of Norway, guests of the Roosevelts, who will attend the opening with them.

On the eve of the opening, thousands of workmen hurried about the 2-mile-square area applying final touches for the debut.

Considerable portions of the fair are days or weeks short of completion, notably some of the foreign government and state buildings and the amusement area.

But the unfinished parts were overshadowed by more than 200 completed buildings and hundreds of thousands of displays calculated to take a visitor many days to inspect.

What's Going On And Where

Luncheons
New York League of Girls' Clubs, Wardman Park Hotel, 1 p. m.
Catholic Young Women's Clubs, Wardman Park Hotel, 1 p. m.
Breakfast
Pi Sigma Tau Sorority, Roger Smith Hotel, 11 a. m.
Dinner
Sigma Delta Kappa Legal Sorority, Carlton Hotel, 8:30 p. m.
Meetings
Brotherhood of Saint Andrews, Hamilton Hotel, 9 a. m.
Rev. M. R. Mandis, Raleigh Hotel, 8 p. m.
Dance
Pi Sigma Tau Sport Dance, Roger Smith Hotel, 8 p. m.

Ship Movements

At New York
Arrived Yesterday
Seymour, from Gdynia.
Narvik, from Trondheim.
Arrive Today
Chiriqui, from Cristobal.
Cristobal, from Gothenburg.
Arrive Tomorrow
California, from Glasgow.
Santa Inez, from Havre.
Santa Rosa, from Cristobal.
Sailing Today
No sailings scheduled.
Sailing Tomorrow
Black Tern, from Rotterdam.
Erin, from Lisbon.
Nieuw Amsterdam, for Plymouth.
Normandie, for Southampton.
Calypso, for Bergen.

DUPONT 3829 FOR DIXIE-HOT FRIED CHICKEN

A new taste thrill in Fried Chicken! A whole chicken cut into individual pieces delivered STEAMING HOT in a loaf of butter-toasted French bread. Serves four. $1.00

Try one tonight!

Add 15c for Delivery Charges.

DIXIE-HOT ROAST CHICKEN—$1.50

Daily, Sundays, 9 a. m. to 2 a. m.

DIXIE CHICKEN SHOP
2213-14th St. N.W.

Aerial View of New York World's Fair Opening Today

This aerial view shows Flushing meadows, once a dumping ground, as it appeared yesterday, less than 24 hours before the formal opening of the New York World's Fair. In the extreme foreground is Federal Hall, where President Roosevelt will speak today. In the background are the trylon and perisphere.

Roosevelts and Pomp Will Greet Somoza

Welcome

Continued from Page 1.

patrol the city while the ceremonies are in progress.

Si thousand service men have been called upon to assist the District authorities. The Fire Department is sending 400 men to augment the force of 751 policemen. Traffic will be kept out of the terminal plaza after 10 a. m. Streetcar traffic will be suspended at 10:40 a. m.

Emergency lanes to permit north-south traffic will be established at the following intersections:

Constitution avenue northeast from Delaware avenue; Seventh street and Pennsylvania avenue northwest; Twelfth street and Pennsylvania avenue and Fourteenth street and Pennsylvania avenue.

Parking will be banned after

8 a. m. Wednesday on the following streets:

Entire Union Station Plaza; Louisiana avenue from the station to Delaware avenue and Delaware avenue from the station to Constitution avenue; New Jersey avenue from Louisiana to Constitution avenue; First street northeast from H street to East Capitol street; California street from the station to Second street northeast; E street from the station to Second street northeast; Massachusetts avenue from station to Second street northeast; D street from Louisiana avenue to Second street northeast.

First street northwest from Pennsylvania avenue to D street; Constitution avenue from First street northeast to Pennsylvania avenue northwest; Pennsylvania avenue from Third street northwest to Madison place; Fifteenth street from E street to New York avenue; Madison place from Pennsylvania avenue to H street and Jackson place from Pennsylvania avenue to H street.

Parking will be prohibited after 8 a. m. for one block back on both sides of the parade route on all streets which cross Pennsylvania avenue from Third to Fourteenth streets northwest.

Prince Olaf, Roosevelts Eat Hot Dogs

Smorgasbord Also
On Hand, Though, for
Picnic at Cottage

By the Associated Press.

Hyde Park, N. Y., April 29.—President and Mrs. Roosevelt introduced Crown Prince Olaf and Princess Martha of Norway today to that modern American meal—a picnic on hot dogs and potato salad.

In the wooded surroundings of the Chief Executive's new Dutch Colonial bungalow, three miles from the Roosevelt home, the royal couple joined two score Roosevelt friends and relatives at a festive board piled high with hot and cold American and Scandinavian dishes.

The luncheon, served on the front porch of the President's house—finished but still unfurnished—was described as strictly a "family affair." No guest list was announced.

Nellie Johansen Is Chef
To make her royal guests feel a little more at home, Mrs. Roosevelt had her stand-by for such occasions, Nellie Johansen, prepare some Norwegian herring salad. Miss Johansen, who used to weave baskets at Mrs. Roosevelt's furniture factory near here, established her reputation as an expert on salads during the visit last fall of Crown Prince Berthold of Sweden. Additional praise was heaped on her Smorgasbord (hors d'oeuvres) today.

After the luncheon, the party moved out into a clearing and was entertained by a group of amateur Norwegian singers and dancers in front of a backdrop of American and Norwegian flags.

Returning to the home of the President's mother, the royal guests attended a family dinner followed by music by Carl R. Maxon's Y. M. C. A. quartet from Salem College.

Hasn't Changed Speech

In odd moments during the day, the President worked on his mail and re-read for correction the speech he will deliver in New York tomorrow afternoon opening the World's Fair.

Secretaries said no major changes had been made in the address since Chancellor Hitler's Reichstag speech.

The President will leave here tomorrow morning by train and arrive at the uptown station around noon (E. S. T.). He will drive to the fair grounds and attend a luncheon at the $3,000,000 Federal Building before participating in the hours' program inaugurating the $100,000,000 exposition.

Can't Stay to See Fair

Mr. Roosevelt's talk will begin at 1:30 p. m. (E. S. T.) and last 15 or 20 minutes. He must get back to Hyde Park to receive Crown Prince Frederick and Princess Ingrid of Denmark, due to arrive from New York about 6 p. m. on the yacht Potomac, so will start back immediately after the speech.

THE LESTER Betsy Ross SPINET

HALF A CENTURY OF FINE PIANO BUILDING

Eight exclusive and individual styles are awaiting your selection. Each design bears a distinctive appeal to those who appreciate grace of line and excellence of workmanship. See this lovely little console today or mail the coupon.

$1 A WEEK
Plus Budget Charge
PRICED $195 UP

OPEN EVENINGS UNTIL 9

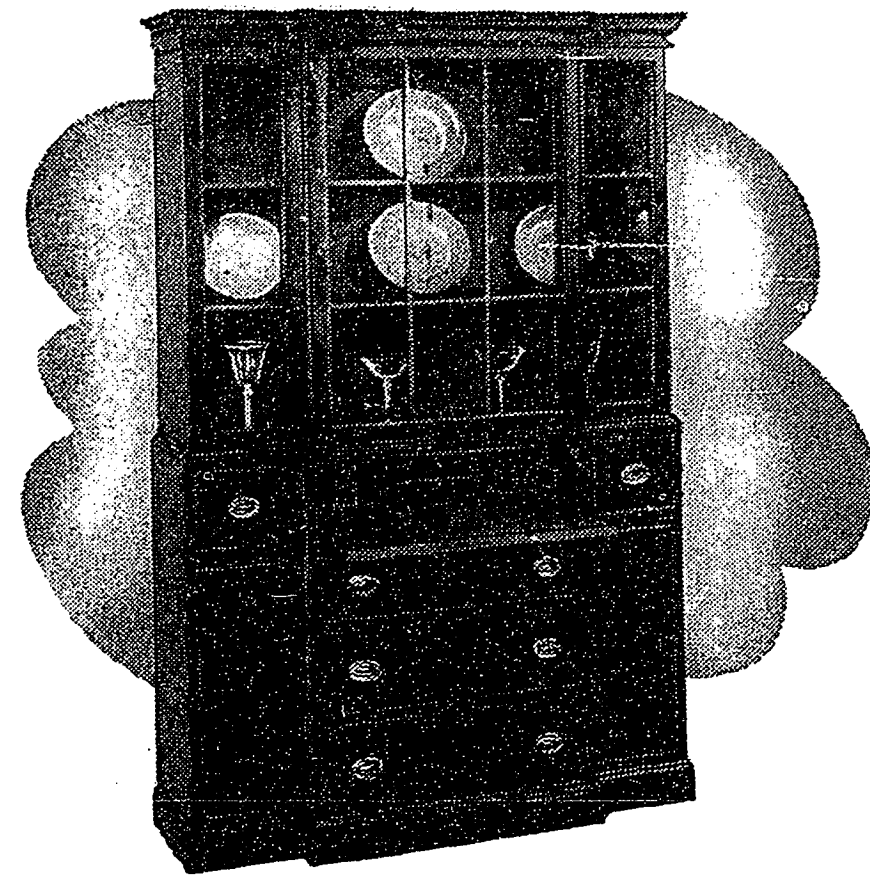

F.A. NORTH PIANO Co., Inc.
Seventy continuous years of piano merchandising
1231 G STREET N.W. OPEN EVENINGS UNTIL 12:34
Please Send Illustrated Catalog with Prices and Terms.

Name _____
Address _____

POST ADVERTISING PULLS

Then listen to a word of advice, from the optometrist at Castelberg's. Seed, and rake, and furrow all you wish, but first, be sure that your eyes are protected against glare by wearing properly fitted glasses. Glasses, in addition, may eliminate the dull headaches which you may be suffering from and give you an opportunity to indulge your hobby and spend many happy hours outdoors which eyestrain may have been preventing.

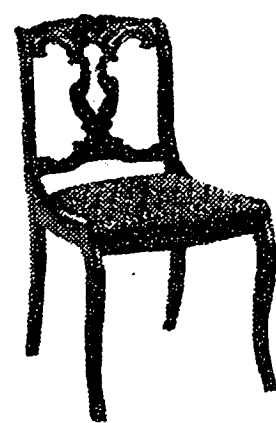

CONVENIENT TERMS
Castelberg's
1004 F Street

Breakfront Desk, $79

A Specially Lowered Price

An effective furnishing with plenty of charm and an abundance of convenience for the living room, library or den that needs something new. All Honduras mahogany face veneers with gumwood cores. 44 inches wide and 74 inches tall, with lots of drawer space, cupboard sections and desk section that may be closed. An imposing piece, excellently made, expertly finished and specially low priced. See this Breakfront Desk at Mayer & Co.

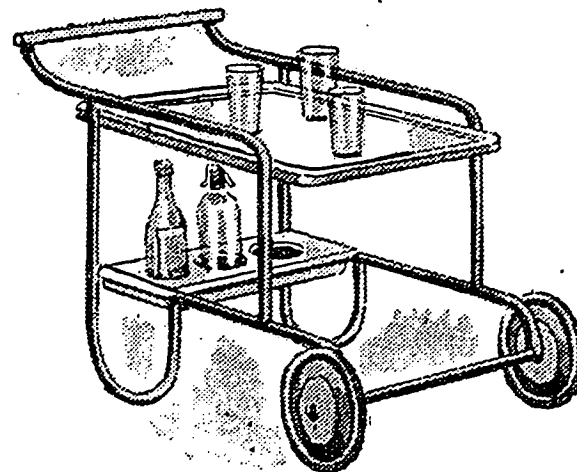

Solid Honduras Mahogany Karpen Chair

$14.95

(Regularly $19.75)

A charming chair of solid Honduras mahogany, expertly finished to a mellow brown tone. Excellent Karpen construction, skillful carving and with upholstered seat in an appropriate and tastefully patterned cotton tapestry.

Refreshment Cart, $5.50

Strong all-steel construction. Steel tray, 16"x24", is removable. Rubber-tired steel wheels.

Spring Base Chair, $9.95

Made of resilient spring steel. Seat and back of perforated steel. 3-panel, cartridge-type head rest. Cotton padded seat cushion.

Refreshment Table, $2.25

20" round top is removable. Baked enamel finishes. 18" high. It folds.

Spring Base Chair, $3.95

A comfortable chair of resilient spring steel and specially low priced. Green, yellow, blue or red with stencil designs.

Summer Rug Stocks Are Complete Now

MAYER & CO.

Seventh Street

Between D and E